Cabazon, Liebling Proposals Spark Council Session

City council last night witnessed and participated in lively activity including a discussion of cancellation of condemnation proceedings against the Liebling property on Tahquitz Road, a peace offering from Cabazon, clarification of intention regarding the paving of McCallum Way, and a request by Desert Braemar Corporation to use an airport building as a fly-in headquarters office.

Council unanimously agreed to hand down a decision by February 17 regarding the condemnation of the Liebling property. A. M. Liebling, and his attorney, Judge Jerome Richardson, told city council they would accept $175,000 for the property in question, with provisions.

The property would be used for off-street parking, and Liebling would retain 110 feet of frontage along Palm Canyon to erect business structures, the conditions said. Liebling asked that his parking requirement, relative to the business, be waived.

CABAZON'S MAYOR, L. Dee Tallent, and his city attorney, Merrill Brown, appeared before city council to inform them of Cabazon's plans in relation to annexation near Palm Springs.

Tallent agreed to ask his council to redraw the proposed boundary line in its southern extremity so as to exclude Highway 111 at the request of Palm Springs council.

The hearing resulted from the proposed Cabazon annexation of six sections along Highway 99 which would include the state weighing

"The trouble with whiskey is that you take a drink and it makes a new man of you. Then he has to have a drink."

The biggest pain-in-the-neck about smoking is a fellow I know, who never smoked in his life. In the 30 or 40 years I've known this man, he has made more people miserable than any ten men could smoking.

The teetotalers exaggerate what drink does to a man. They are always harping about drink changing a man into a monster. I have done a few ornery things when drinking, but they were all well planned when I was absolutely sober.

When I am drinking, I am me, just me, and you are you, just you. And so if you are a disagreeable person when you are drinking, that's you, you are a disagreeable person.

6 New British Jets Crash in Follow-the-Leader Disaster

SWAFFHAM, England (AP)—Six of Britain's newest jet fighters crashed up today in a follow-the-leader disaster that killed one pilot.

A flight of eight Hawker Hunter fighters hit sudden bad weather during a long training flight over Eastern England, and didn't have enough fuel to ride it out.

Four pilots bailed out one after another, leaving their jets to crash unmaneuvered. A fifth crashed up during an emergency landing at nearby Marham Field.

The sixth crashed out of control into a field. The pilot may have been trying to ride it out to get his plane away from villages below. He was killed in the crash. Two other planes in the flight landed safely.

Senate Group Votes 90 Pct. Wheat Support

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Agriculture Committee today approved, 9 to 6, a return to a rigid 90 per cent price support for good quality wheat. Sen. Milton R. Young (R-ND) disclosed the action as the committee headed for a final vote on the omnibus farm bill.

The committee is controlled by the Democrats. Some Republicans predicted the committee's farm bill would be vetoed by President Eisenhower.

The big bill includes the billion-dollar "soil bank" called for by the administration. But it also includes a return to rigid price supports at 90 per cent of parity for cotton, wheat, corn and peanuts. That the administration doesn't want.

President Eisenhower said Wednesday he would be "gravely concerned" if Congress passed rigid supports.

JayCees Pushing Bond Vote Drive

Junior Chamber of Commerce is actively conducting a "Get Out the Vote" campaign for the bond election next Tuesday, and also is urging registration for the councilmanic election in April, which has a February 16 deadline.

Jim Thompson is chairman of the project, which is part of a nation-wide JayCee campaign.

School Lunch Poisons 126

BRETHREN, Mich. (AP)—Twenty-six children were hospitalized and more than 100 others were treated last night for food poisoning blamed on potato salad served at a school lunch.

Harried hospital workers at nearby Manistee said the first batch of children arrived at dusk and a constant flow streamed in through the night.

They came in buses, police cars and private autos and lined the corridors of the 100-bed hospital waiting treatment by one of the two doctors.

Rolling Quake Jolts Southern Portion of State

EL CENTRO, Calif. (AP)—A sharp rolling earthquake jolted Southern California at 6:33 a.m. today followed by aftershocks at approximately 7:03 a.m. and 7:24 a.m. First reports placed the quake center near El Centro.

The tremor broke a water main at nearby Holtville and shattered windows in Calexico on the California-Mexico border.

Dr. Charles Richter of Pasadena's California Institute of Technology said it appeared to be one of the stronger shocks, south of the Mexican border.

Richter said the 6:33 a.m. shock registered an intensity of 6.8 on the Richter scale of 10. He said the center of the quake was approximately 240 miles southeast of Pasadena. Seismology instruments at Cal Tech were continuing to pick up readings some two hours after the initial shock.

Downtown San Diego buildings swayed and early-morning risers rushed to the streets. Lighting fixtures in Los Angeles buildings swayed for several minutes after the early shock but sheriff's deputies reported no damage.

Sheriff's officers in Bakersfield, scene of heavy quakes in 1952, said they did not feel the quake. Blythe (Calif.) authorities said they felt the tremor slightly in that Colorado River city.

U.S. Chamber Opposes Federal Flood Insurance

WASHINGTON (AP)—The U.S. Chamber of Commerce today urged Congress to reject President Eisenhower's—or any other—federally subsidized flood insurance program.

The chamber, representing 20,000 business firms, said government flood insurance "would not work" and would introduce many inequities.

Mr. Eisenhower has asked Congress to adopt a five-year, experimental $3 billion flood insurance program. Policyholders would pay 60 per cent of the actual premium costs and state and federal governments would split the remaining costs.

The chamber said the "pseudo-insurance" plans would neither be efficient nor effective.

Truman and MacArthur Clash on Reason for Firing

NEW YORK (AP)—Former President Truman and Gen. Douglas MacArthur today gave sharply conflicting versions of Mr. Truman's world-shaking firing of MacArthur as Far East commander.

Mr. Truman said he dismissed MacArthur because "I could no longer tolerate his insubordination."

State Board of Education Delays Acting

Urges Village and Valley School Heads Study Benefits First

Palm Springs and Coachella Valley school trustees last night were instructed to decide among themselves whether a Junior College would be beneficial in this area before requesting a state survey as to its possibility.

The two groups met last night with representatives of the State Department of Education at Coachella Valley Union High school. If the trustees decide that a junior college would be beneficial here, and a decision meeting is planned within 30 days, then the state will conduct a survey to see whether or not it is warranted.

THE PROPOSITION would then be placed before the residents in an election to establish a junior college district.

Figures announced at the meeting illustrated the tremendous growth of the Coachella Valley in the past five years, when a junior college proposal was first discussed.

Combined school enrollment in both districts now totals 7919, with 291 seniors and 376 juniors. Assessed valuation of both districts has reached $104,000,000, with a combined bonding capacity of approximately $5,200,000.

Under a survey conducted prior to the meeting, of 210 students questioned 173 plan to continue their education, and 37 do not. Seventy-three want to attend a four-year college, 80 a junior college, 9 a business college, 10 a trade or vocational school, and 13 other types.

TO THE QUESTION of attendance at a junior college in this area, 153 said they would, and 56 said they would not.

At the meeting were Dr. Frank Linsay and Dr. Frank Wright of the State Department of Education; trustees Ray Sorum, Helen Staley, Haig Harris and Frank Muller, and Dr. Wallace R. Muelder, superintendent, Palm Springs; trustees Leland Yost, Howard Carr, William Becker, Lester True and Ray Rummolds, and Gale Braumwell, superintendent, Indio.

The meeting was preceded by a dinner in the school cafeteria and followed by a tour of the new gymnasium.

Santa Rosa Man Shoots Boy for 'Annoying Birds'

SANTA ROSA, Calif. (AP)—Edwin W. Hoag, 65, Santa Rosa, was free on $2,500 bail today after wounding a 12-year-old boy with a shotgun for "annoying my birds."

Hoag was booked at Sonoma County jail on charges of assault with a deadly weapon after firing the 16-gauge blast which wounded Billy Kutz of this city. Two other boys, playing a short distance away, were injured slightly by pellets from the gun.

Police said Hoag at first resisted arrest and pointed his shotgun at Deputy Sheriff Ben Schuauers, but was persuaded to put the weapon down. He had been drinking, they said.

IKE'S TALK INTERPRETED AS 'YES,' 'NO' AND HINT OF TV CAMPAIGN

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Eisenhower-will-run school of Republicans visualized President Eisenhower today in the role of a second term candidate conducting a "front porch" type of campaign by television.

That was the inference drawn by some Republicans from the President's news conference remark Wednesday that he had never contemplated a barnstorming campaign, even if he had not suffered a heart attack.

While President Truman made effective use of that technique in

Hass to Fight Reversal by Appeal Court

Will Request New Hearing on Council Areas

The redistricting case is scheduled to be carried to the California State Supreme Court again. Attorney Leonard Bock representing Herbert Hass, said today he will request a hearing before the highest court in California concerning a decision handed down this week by the Fourth Appellate Court which favored the City of Palm Springs. A waiting period of 30 days is required before action can be taken.

The Fourth Court of Appeals Monday disallowed Hass's petition for redistricting of the seven council representative areas.

DECISION ON a writ of mandamus, filed Tuesday through the same court, is still pending. The writ would stop city finance officer Shelby Langford from paying city funds, and Mayor Florian Boyd from pursuing action toward the April 10 general election.

That election would place councilmen in four of the seven offices for four years.

Bock said the prohibition writ will probably be decided prior to a week from tomorrow. If the Court of Appeals denies the writ, Bock will file that with the Supreme Court of California, and wait another 10 days for a decision.

During that time, he said, city council may, but should not if they are prudent, act toward arranging the election.

Hunt Plane Crew in Raging Atlantic

HALIFAX, N.S. (AP)—An armada of planes searched today for survivors of a downed U.S. Air Force B26 bomber believed to be tossing helplessly in a rubber dinghy in the storm-lashed Atlantic Ocean.

An Air Force spokesman said the search area was being lashed by heavy rains today. Rough seas are hampering the search.

He said the pilot ditched his twin-engine bomber carrying three men late Wednesday when heavy ice formed on its wings. The plane was one of two flying from Keflavik, Iceland, to Goose Bay, Labrador.

Flash Fire Kills Five Children

KALAMAZOO, Mich. (AP)—Five small children died of suffocation in a flash fire late yesterday while clinging to each other on a living room sofa.

A sixth child and an adult suffered burns, a woman was injured in a leap from a second-story window and an elderly roomer was burned critically. Another child was rescued through a window.

Gilbert Peake, 71, owner of the house, said the fire broke out shortly after he found the children playing with a gas stove in the kitchen. He ran for help but the children suffocated before firemen arrived.

Hass to Fight Reversal by Appeal Court

Will Request New Hearing on Council Areas

The redistricting case is scheduled to be carried to the California State Supreme Court again.

Attorney Leonard Bock representing Herbert Hass, said today he will request a hearing before the highest court in California concerning a decision handed down this week by the Fourth Appellate Court which favored the City of Palm Springs. A waiting period of 30 days is required before action can be taken.

The Fourth Court of Appeals Monday disallowed Hass's petition for redistricting of the seven council representative areas.

DECISION ON a writ of mandamus, filed Tuesday through the same court, is still pending. The writ would stop city finance officer Shelby Langford from paying city funds, and Mayor Florian Boyd from pursuing action toward the April 10 general election.

That election would place councilmen in four of the seven offices for four years.

Bock said the prohibition writ will probably be decided prior to a week from tomorrow. If the Court of Appeals denies the writ, Bock will file that with the Supreme Court of California, and wait another 10 days for a decision.

During that time, he said, city council may, but should not if they are prudent, act toward arranging the election.

THE DECISION RECEIVED by city council at its regular meeting last night ruled in part that "It would be a fraud on the voters to rule otherwise, after they have voted upon an ordinance submitted to them on a definite condition." This was the basis of the city's argument in the suit.

The Hass suit asked that no election be held in spite of a special vote which denied public desire to redistrict. The vote of one year ago today failed its necessary three-fourths vote, but passed by a simple majority. That vote is the basis of Hass's contention.

Citizens Bank Now 160th in U.S.

Citizens National Trust & Savings Bank of Riverside which serves Palm Springs and Cathedral City has advanced 18 places in national rank to become the 160th largest bank in the United States, according to the American Banker, New York daily banking newspaper.

Total deposits is the measurement used to determine rank. Citizens climbed from 178th place, which it held at the end of 1954 when deposits totaled $135,323,639. A gain of $26 million during 1955 brought deposits to $162,196,391.

"This gain, which is more than $6,000,000 greater than the bank's 1954 deposit growth, offers concrete evidence that Inland Southern California is growing at an increasing rate," Elden Smith, Citizens president, said as he announced the bank's new position.

Howard Proposes U.S. Issue U.S. Swim Stamp

Uncle Sam may release a special adhesive honoring Palm Springs. That's philatelic lingo for a suggestion by Sportsman Bob Howard, famed owner of the desert resort city's Howard Manor, that a postage stamp to be issued to commemorate Palm Springs' 40 years of postal service and the building recently of its 1000th swimming pool.

Howard, whose suggestion is being considered by Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield, proposed as the stamp's central design, a curvaceous swim-suit clad girl poised to dive into a swimming pool.

Howard feels that the philatelic world and millions of swimming enthusiasts would warmly respond to such a stamp.

"Foreign postage stamps have gone in for the glamour treatment from time immemorial," declared Bob. "So why not bring a little feminine pulchritude to the American stamp buying public for a change? In my opinion, a Palm Springs Swimming Pool Stamp would be very popular with the public and would help to get the post office department out of the red."

Howard dug up the fact that Palm Springs' first regular post office started in its first general store, which was established by Carl C. Lyken in 1916. The handful of Palm Springs pioneers little dreamed then that their sleepy little village would some day become a mighty desert empire. An empire with the world's highest per capita swimming pool rate, one pool for every 12 permanent residents.

All doctors who may be visiting in the Palm Springs area are invited.

New Mineral Exhibit Placed on Display Here

A recently received gift of native copper and copper ores has been put on display in a lobby case in the Desert Museum.

These materials, including a water-worn mass of raw metallic copper and a lump of the same from glacial drift, are the gift of Dr. T. M. Broderick, mining engineer associated with Calumet and Hecla, Inc. of Michigan.

Certain of the Museum's older possessions in the form of more brilliantly colored ores of copper, —azurite and malachite—are included in the display to point up the variety of forms the same mineral may take.

The guest speaker for Saturday will be Merton Hinshaw, director of the Pacific Grove Museum of Natural History. His topic is "Bringing the seashore to the Desert" in kodachrome slides.

By BILL RASHALL

This column has stuck its neck out on many issues which have from time to time confronted the people of Palm Springs. There have been many occasions, (first to confess, I hope) when your reporter may have been wrong.

But I'm not wrong on the need of a municipal golf course for this resort community. And remember this, too, that I do not play the game, although I wish I had time to do so. With that in mind I'll try to be as objective as I possibly can in the few lines that follow below.

It is the opinion of many, hundreds just like me, who know nothing about the game, that a municipal golf course is as necessary to the growth and economic welfare of Palm Springs as a tomato packing plant is to a city like Banning.

PLAY FOR OUR thousands of tourists, Winter residents and hotel guests—play—that is, or call it recreation, is our only industry.

And like the tomato plant elsewhere this industry of recreation provides work for those who have to work in order to live in Palm Springs. It provides a source of revenue for our merchants, night clubs, hotels and for the girl who serves you coffee in the morning at the corner drug store. It is work for the builder of homes, and the artisans that he has to employ to erect a home or commercial establishment.

Recreation provides work in this town for the guy who washes windows and digs a ditch or drives a truck. Play as an industry helps to increase property values in this town — your undeveloped lot, your two room shack or your mansion.

A GOLF COURSE in this community where the man of average means can play upon without having to lay out anywhere from $10 to $50 for a game is recreation—the type of industry we are seeking, smogless and smokeless.

During the next few days before election voters will be swayed one way and another. The issue will be purposely confused. You will be told that it costs too much. That it will cost too much to maintain a municipal golf course. And you will be told that our City Councilmen cannot be trusted with the amount of money sought for the purchase of land and the development of an 18-hole golf course.

You, the voter, will have to make up your own mind. But, remember when you vote against the golf course you are also voting against the continued growth of this city which we all love and a town where we all like to live.

Cadillac

His Favorite Investment!

"It's the wisest motor car investment I ever made!"
"I've owned a great many makes through the years, but Cadillac wins my vote as the finest investment of them all."
"In my book, it is the best dollar investment on the highway today!"

We can't tell you how many times we've heard it. In fact, Cadillac's value and economy have become favorite topics of conversation among Cadillac owners everywhere.

And their sentiments are based on some very substantial facts about the "car of cars."

First of all, there's the economy of buying a Cadillac. Many models are actually priced competitively with the "medium-priced" makes.

Then there is the economy of operating a Cadillac. Cadillac's gasoline mileage is simply phenomenal for a car of its size and stature ... and its dependability is truly extraordinary.

And, finally, there is the economy that comes from Cadillac's great value. In resale markets all across the land, the Cadillac car traditionally returns a higher percentage of its original cost than any other automobile built in America.

And consider what generous dividends Cadillac owners receive from their investments.

... Cadillac's superlative beauty and luxury ... Cadillac's magnificent performance and comfort ... and Cadillac's wonderful reputation among the world's motorists.

We suggest that you pay us a visit soon and investigate the latest and finest Cadillac investment of them all.

We have the car ... and the keys ... and the facts—and we'll be happy to give you all three at any time. Why not make it today?

Emmon's Buy Keating's Share of Trailer Lodge

Mr. and Mrs. Earl F. Emmons, formerly of Long Beach have acquired sole ownership of the Prairie Schooner Trailer Lodge, 601 East Andreas Road, it was announced today.

The Emmons purchased the interest of John Keating, due to the illness of Mrs. Keating which necessitated their return to Long Beach.

Emmons and Theo Filer of Arroyo Grande purchased the park in 1954, and Filer's interest was taken over by Keating in April of 1955.

Amount of improvement work since that time has been comparable to building a new park, Emmons said. It included the installation of new electrical work, a water system, sewerage system, paved streets, colored patios, planting of trees, remodeling the office and recreation building.

Plans were also announced for improvement of the remaining six acres, which will more than double accommodations at the park.

The Prairie Schooner is located three blocks from the center of Palm Springs, and features large lots and group entertainment.

SOLE OWNERSHIP of the Prairie Schooner Trailer Lodge, 601 East Andreas Road, has been acquired by Mr. and Mrs. Earl F. Emmons. Plans were also announced today for development of the remaining six acres of the park.

Sky Ridge Residents Enjoy Pot-Luck-Ham Dinner, Party

A pot-luck baked ham dinner was held in the clubhouse at Sky Ridge, which was attended by a big majority of the residents. The arrangements were managed by a committee of Park ladies, who had the tables decorated with bowls of flowers from the Park.

The entertainment following the dinner was strictly home talent and Merle Hancock, the owner, acted as master of ceremonies.

After community singing the following trailerites were called upon to act as representatives from the Chambers of Commerce of their respective home communities: Ken White of San Leandro, Grace McMinn of Portland, Mike Gourlay of Cleveland, and Mrs. Russell Hadley of Ludington, Michigan.

A READING WAS given by Mary Harrison, and Robert Hood and Merle Hancock rendered a duet with Mrs. R. L. Gourlay at the piano. The last feature on the program was an old-fashioned Spelling Bee. Wallace Brooks, the moderator, picked the participants from the audience, choosing the ladies for one side and men for the other. A lively half-hour ensued with the ladies the victors.

Dr. and Mrs. John R. Ranson of San Luis Obispo are spending two weeks visiting at Sky Ridge with their friends, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Curtis and Mr. and Mrs. John Gromer.

They Torqued it up for the BEST TAKE-OFF YET

FIRST THING you need in a car, of course, is power to spark performance.

And you get that in a 1956 Buick in plenty — from big 322-cubic-inch V8 engines that hit new highs in horsepower and compression.

But the power under the hood must be carried to the rear driving wheels in the form of twisting force on the drive shaft.

That's torque — the end-product of your transmission. And the higher the torque build-up — the greater the "torque multiplication" in starting and accelerating — the better the getaway and response.

So if you want to feel take-off that leaves your breath behind you, come try a '56 Buick with Variable Pitch Dynaflo.

For in this airplane-principled transmission, Buick engineers raised the ceiling on torque to give you the best getaway yet.

They did it with something they call "double regeneration" — a new way to make flowing oil add to its own velocity.

And when you use the full torque of a Buick beauty like the one pictured above, you're using the highest torque multiplication to be had in any standard-production American automobile today.

Come see for yourself what that means in new thrills and new safety.

You'll find brilliant new getaway response in the first inch of pedal travel — plus greater gas mileage to boot.

You'll find an electrifying new safety-surge of full-power acceleration when you floor the pedal and switch the pitch.

And you'll find this spectacular performance blended into the smoothest-traveling, the sweetest-riding, the highest-powered and the easiest-handling Buicks yet built. Drop in on us this week — today, if you can — and judge things firsthand.

*New Advanced Variable Pitch Dynaflo is the only Dynaflo Buick builds today. It is standard on Roadmaster, Super and Century — optional at modest extra cost on the Special.

EDITOR'S CORNER

For God and Country

By OLIVER B. JAYNES

Most of the men who will be holding responsible positions in America 25 years from now will be drawn from the more than four million youths who are today learning to be good citizens in the Boy Scout training program. Experience has proven this will be the case because so many of today's leaders in government, business and the professions, from the national to the local levels, were Boy Scouts in their boyhood days.

For 46 years the Boy Scouts of America, through the organization's adult guidance, has been teaching the boys of this nation the value of a high moral standard and instilling in them a devotion to God and country that prepares them well for the responsibilities that lie ahead. In these days when there is a feeling of uncertainty for the future of America — indeed, the whole world — this equipping our youth for the days ahead seems to have a greater meaning than ever before. We need only to consider the development in science the past ten years to realize the vast changes and responsibilities that face the leaders of 1980.

Carried on through the sponsorship of churches, service clubs, fraternal orders, veteran organizations and many other groups, the Boy Scout program has spread out into every community in the land, no matter how large or small. Every boy in America is given the opportunity to benefit by and enjoy the activities arranged for them by their adult leaders. Beginning at school age as Cub Scouts the program carries them through the many stages of Boy Scout work into the older group known as Rangers. The merit system through which the boys are honored for attainments in skill and craftsmanship is the finest program even devised for the development of natural ability, incentive and pride among those who participate in it.

It is important that parents and all adults appreciate the value of both Boy and Girl Scout programs and lend their assistance in the many ways that they can help. There are almost 7,000 boys and adult leaders participating in Scout work in Riverside county. Many special programs have been arranged during this Boy Scout Week — such as the Palm Springs Rotary Club meeting yesterday to bring attention to all the value of this youth training movement. And it should be mentioned here that the Boy and Girl Scout organizations in Palm Springs depend entirely on the Community Chest for funds needed to carry on the work.

The Boy Scouts of America are inaugurating this a week a four-year program to be known as "Onward for God and My Country" which will be participated in by most of the nation's 4,000,000 Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts and Explorers. Almost every adult will have an opportunity some time to assist in some way in carrying out this Scout program with such a magnificent objective. Don't pass it up when it comes along!

Top Calorie Corps

(St. Louis Globe-Democrat)

It happens periodically. Some trim and wiry General, like Army Chief of Staff Maxwell Taylor, orders a crack-down on overnourished officers. The idea is to cut the fat out of the military. Now Gen. Taylor has demanded all Army officers enter a physical fitness program. A new regulation insists they take a half day off for exercise.

That may be tough on the paper divisions and swivel brigades at Pentagon. Our is the best eating Army in the world, and sometimes shows it. It has

Knowland's "Candidatetis"

(Bartow, Florida, Democrat)

We Democrats have plenty of troubles of our own, but although it may be inconsistent we can't help but chuckle over the dither into which Senator Knowland of California appears to be driving himself... all because President Eisenhower won't tell him and the world at large whether or not he is going to seek a second term... Knowland, who has the itch to become a presidential candidate says "unfair" for the President not to let other potential Republican candidates know what he is going to do about this matter... so it would seem that we Democrats aren't the only ones who are suffering from "candidatetis."

Music to the Dogs

(Towner, N. D., Mouse River Farmers Press)

Judging by the sound of some of the songs which find their way to the top in the nation's favor we long ago concluded that music was going to the dogs. This contention was substantiated when we listened to a program Saturday, giving the nation's top fifty tunes and found that one of them was listed as being "sung" by the Canine Choir consisting of several barking dogs who supposedly range their barks to form sort of a mournful tune to a background of orchestral music. We personally think the effect is simply gruesome and suggest that hereafter recording studios leave music to humans and let the dogs confine their vocal efforts to more realistic sound effects when chasing cats.

Stevenson-Kefauver Ticket

(Alto, Texas, Herald)

We believe Stevenson will get the Democratic nomination in Chicago next summer. We also have an inkling that it will be a Stevenson-Kefauver ticket for the Democrats in 1956, although no one can predict what 1200 delegates will do when they meet in Chicago late next summer.

As far as we see it, the Democrats have no outstanding dark horse who might suddenly topple the favorite and become the enthusiastic standard-bearer for Democrats in all the states. In fact, the Democrats have fewer candidates now than they have had at any time since the departure of Franklin Roosevelt.

BE A GOOD CITIZEN

Come Tuesday, it's election day You have the privilege To cast your vote, so do it right, For progress of the Village

One of the most important items on the ballot—at least, so it seems to me—is the proposition for a municipal golf course.

Of course, I may be prejudiced. I like courses—for golf, horses and so on. But think what a munie golf course would do for us.

Palm Springs takes pride in being the winter golf capital of the world. We have four of the finest private courses in a wide area. And a fifth is projected.

But a munie course would add wonders. Allow everyone who wants to bat a little white pellet around, a chance to do so. Whether he is in the 90 per cent tax bracket or just a lowly 22 per center.

ASIDE FROM THAT, think of the additional publicity for the Village. And we should. For its publicity that keeps them coming here. Filling up the coffers.

We have plenty of famous tournaments now. O'Donnell's two big amateur events, Tamarisk and Thunderbird Clubs, pro and amateur tournaments.

With a municipal golf course, we could have tournaments to determine the public champion.

All of which reminds me of the lament of a sports-minded Villager whose favorite pastimes are golf and bowling.

But, he said, he wishes he could reverse his scores.

His golf cards would do credit to a bowling alley score.

While his bowling score looks like that of a hot golfer.

(Diagram—Under 100 in bowling, near 200 in golfing.)

SORRY, but here's another mention of the new 1956 auto license plates.

Villager called in to say he saw a car with a license plate starting with HXD.

"Maybe he was hexed but he seemed to be driving sanely," was the comment.

SOME TIME AGO, when automobile manufacturers first started to put out two-color cars, a man said to me:

"These two tones are all right but I'm worried about the time when they put on three or more colors. Rainbow autos."

Well, he can start worrying anew. I read the other day where a new paint job has been perfected which will be available about 1957.

It is a patented process where in a car changes color according to the way light strikes it. Blue and red, maybe, one minute. Yellow and green the next.

That is going to confuse witnesses to auto accidents. One will tell police one combination, the next guy another. All depending on how the light was from where they stood.

And the Fairbury, Neb., Daily News comments: "The second battle of Gettysburg will be Marie putting her foot down against a second term."

Congressional Report

By Representative John Phillips

PARTY POLICY

For several weeks we have been taking our new Representative step by step through the preliminaries of his job. This week we will discuss one of the major problems he will face, all too soon. This is, how to vote on an issue which comes to the Hill with announced "administration approval," although, in many instances, he will lack a definitive policy statement from his own party policy committee, or his own leadership.

The first thing he must do is determine if the "administration approval" actually applies to the bill as it comes to the floor. Bills change, for better or worse, frequently, as they pass through the machinery of representative government: referral, subcommittee, committee, calendar, rules committee, floor, amendment, final action: then the same process on the other side of the Capitol, and finally the conference committee.

Perhaps a bill coming up, as I write this, could be a good example. Our Representative must keep in mind (I hope it will always stay fresh in his mind) that he swore to defend the Constitution "against all enemies, foreign and domestic."

THESE LATTER, to the thoughtful and history-reading Representative must necessarily include apathy, the rationalization of a position because it is easier to accept than to oppose, pressures from inside or outside the government, political expediency, the lack of knowledge and experience of democracy en masse as compared with the perception and experience of representative government under the republic, and other factors which I will not list here.

My example is the school aid bill, now about to come before us. I make, as a simple statement which I believe to be incontrovertible, that the entrance of the federal government, by way of any kind of "support," will spell the eventual end of the educational freedoms as this nation has known them in the past and on which some of the strength of the nation has been built.

The President recommended a program of federal grants, for school construction. He suggested a total of $1,250,000,000, at the rate of $250,000,000 a year. This did not satisfy the free-spending members of the present majority on House committee on Education and Labor, so an alternate proposal, known as the Kelley bill, calls for an authorization of $400,000,000 a year for 4 years, or a total of $1,600,000,000—more money and less time.

I have always contended that the education of its children, the protection of its citizens, and the care of its aged, are among the first responsibilities of a state. Even buildings for more state office buildings to use, must yield to these three demands. Therefore any state, with any money at all, has the necessary money for education.

California, with one of the highest education standards of any state, would get $26 million, under the Kelley bill formula. We would be taxed $37 million or more under the same program. Should we deny the less wealthy and perhaps less progressive states our help? Wait a minute: New Jersey is not a backwards state, and needs new classrooms, but New Jersey constantly refuses to adopt a state income tax, or a state sales tax. California has both.

Another state, Wisconsin, has a bonded indebtedness of only $5 million, yet it would receive money under the proposed program: California's money, if you want to put it that way, and how much is our state debt today? Even the southern states, usually used as examples of need, always had money in their treasuries, in the analyses I spoke of, and education surely ought to come ahead of other needs in those states. The federal government has no money in its treasury. Besides, when we tax and then distribute money, we charge a high fee for that service, known as the cost of bureaucratic government.

Hemingway in Bed 40 Days

HAVANA—"The characters are too damned anxious to get you dead," exploded Ernest Hemingway—who's just given another demonstration of his indestructibility by staying in bed 40 days to lick a serious hepatitis virus.

"Papa" had to keep very still for 10 days. He sat up writing long hand on a board for the last 30 days—"jamming it"... writing rapidly.

After the bed-rest, doctors cheerfully told him his liver's that of a 36-year-old who's never had a drink.

Furthermore, they ordered him to drink 6 ounces of whiskey a day "I figure I can do it if I put my mind to it," he said, with a drink in his hand.

The Nobel Prize winner told about it at his picturesque farm. A couple months ago the medics told him the hepatitis — not accompanied by yellow jaundice in his case—"may be worse than Africa," meaning the two plane crashes.

By coincidence, gloomy doctors who'd prophesied he couldn't live more than two years after Africa admitted that, with that period up, he looks good for years.

"They'd told me at the time of the Africa thing that I could last six months if I put my mind to it, or two years if I made a career of it—look it easy."

On Jan. 25 — the second anniversary—he passed all the examinations. "We whipped them good, too," he says.

Now there's booming activity at the farm where he and Mary Welsh Hemingway have 18 cats.

"Spence"—Spencer Tracy—arrives March 25, along with fight trainer George Brown, "who'll get Spence and me in shape for the Old Man and The Sea."

"When you make something about the ocean, you have to work a times as hard, because the ocean is a..."

He employed a five-letter word. Mary was serving pate which she made herself and running to take phone calls, two from New York, while white-bearded papa, who wears 222 now, was petting "Black Dog," a mongrel, which paced persistently at his leg.

The Hemingways present a beautiful picture of domestic companionship which has gone on for 11 years unchanged.

Mary, of course, will go along to Peru. Mary, who calls him "Lamb" candidly says, "Any woman has got to be in love with Papa."

THE MIDNIGHT EARL... Elizabeth Taylor, in an L.A. hospital with a ruptured neck disc, will be in traction for ten days... Eve Marie Saint, who got 24 movie offers last week, will rest till May... "The Benny Goodman Story," due here Feb. 13, will open Feb. 22 instead—'cause Benny's superstitious... Fred MacMurray may do "The Connie Mack Story."

Linda Darnell's off to Phoenix to appear in "Roomful of Roses". Magda Lupescu (wife of the late King Carol) is holding her memoirs till she gets "the same advance the Duchess of Windsor got."

EARL'S PEARLS... Money may not buy you friends, but it certainly gets you a better class of enemies—Art Moger, Boston.

WISH I'D SAID THAT: "When a man brags that he wears the pants at home, you can bet his wife tells him which pair to put on."—Peggy Green.

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: Bill Haley read a very unusual murder mystery. Seems the victim was shot by a guy from another book.

"When the party line rang back home," recalls Herb Shriner, "everybody in town answered it. It was the only place where you couldn't get a wrong number." That's earl, brother.

ROBERT S. ALLEN:

Reserve Audit Asked

WASHINGTON—Congress is going to have to pass a special law if it wants to make that long-demanded audit of the books of the mighty Federal Reserve banking system.

That's what Congress has been flatly told by Reserve Board Chairman William McChesney Martin.

He served this notice at a stormy meeting of the Senate Banking Committee, where the latest effort was made to get him to back down on the issue. For more than a year Democratic chairmen of major Senate and House committees have been insisting on an audit of the key banking system by the General Accounting Office. But Martin, backed by the Reserve Board, has firmly refused to permit such an official scrutiny.

He contends the Board has its own auditing agency, and that it is "one of the best in Washington."

This drew an immediate retort that bills will be introduced in both the House and Senate to compel the Federal Reserve to submit to audits by the Comptroller General.

Sponsors of this legislation will be its two leading advocates — Senator Paul Douglas (D., Ill.), chairman of the Joint Committee on the Economic Report, and Representative Wright Patman (D., Tex.), chairman of the Small Business Committee. Working closely with them is Representative William Dawson (D., Ill.), chairman of the House Government Operations Committee, who made the original demand for a Reserve audit.

Prospects for their mandatory proposal are not bright at this session. This is an election year, and the party line-up in Congress is too close for this kind of touchy legislation to get far.

But its backers will, undoubtedly, make an issue of it and do considerable talking about it.

NOTE: No audit of the Federal Reserve System has ever been made by the Comptroller General. The first attempt to get one was initiated last spring by Senator Douglas and Representatives Patman and Dawson. As revealed in this column May 6, 1955, Chairman Martin barred Comptroller General Joseph Campbell from examining the Reserve's books. The back stage tussle has been raging ever since then.

YOUR JOB . . . and EVERY JOB IN PALM SPRINGS
DEPENDS ON ATTRACTING TOURISTS HERE!

A Municipal Golf Course is This Community's Greatest Need

As the Winter Golf Capital of the United States, Palm Springs will attract more tourists and keep them here longer. A Municipal Course with moderate greens fee and adequate facilities will make it possible for hundreds of visitors to enjoy their favorite pastime who are unable to get on the existing courses.

Since it will create prosperity for the entire community the proposed course should be paid for by public funds. Communities seeking industrial development provide money from tax funds to attract that kind of development. Since recreation is this resort's only appropriate industry it is just as reasonable that we should build it with local tax funds and attract more visitors.

A vote "YES" for the Municipal Golf Course is a vote for the future prosperity of Palm Springs. The City Council needs your approval to negotiate for a site before prices of land go any higher. It will take some time before the land can be bought and the course built.

The time to act is right now . . .

'Picnic' to Open Here on Tuesday

"Picnic," the William Inge play, will open at Herb Rogers' Palm Springs Playhouse Tuesday evening, February 14, with a cast headed by New York and Hollywood players. "The Rainmaker," current production, will end its run on Sunday evening.

John Crawford will star in "Picnic," playing the role he handled for Rogers at his Tenthous Theatre in Highland Park, Illinois, last summer. Other leading parts will be done by Dawn Richard, Marjorie Walters, Sidney Breese and Phyllis Flax, with Michael Ferrall directing.

"Picnic" involves a confused young man who finds romance in a drab Mid-West town when he meets a discontented young lady. The play has a just quality, interpolated comedy and a certain amount of pathos. Crawford is being held over to star in the show following his performance as "Starbuck" in "The Rainmaker."

Rogers will present ZaSu Pitts in "Solid Gold Cadillac" later in the Palm Springs Playhouse season, with a definite date to be announced soon.

Mr. and Mrs. Merle Afflerbaugh have been entertaining their relatives, Mr. and Mrs. Fred G. Laermle of Riverdale, New York, for the past few weeks. On Monday the Afflerbaughs and the Laermles went to Las Vegas for a four-day stay.

First Nighter Crowd Again at Capacity

Third First Nighter dinner of this season . . . held Tuesday in the Racquet Club . . . Again it was a packed house! As has been the case each Tuesday evening, reservations had to close early because the 160 capacity was reached.

Mrs. Thomas J. Fleming, a charter officer of the Playhouse Guild and the one who inaugurated the popular First Nighter dinners each Tuesday, was hostess at this week's gala dinner party. She was assisted by other officers of the Guild, Mrs. John Luccarelli, Mrs. S. P. Manasse and Mrs. William Malouf. After the festive cocktail hour and dinner the group hurried on to the Palm Springs Playhouse to view the initial performance of Herb Rogers' production of "The Rainmaker."

Mr. and Mrs. Fleming, who are here from their La Jolla home and houseguests of the Maloufs, had as their guests Mr. and Mrs. Harry Winston of Chicago and Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Buchanan of New York.

Among the many large parties was the table hosted by the Harry Clatworthys, including Mrs. Walter Hamilton, Mr. and Mrs. Jules Hamachek, Mrs. Harold Ault, Mrs. Joel E. Stone, Mrs. Al McCune, Mrs. Lillian Murphy, Mrs. Grace Rattray, Mrs. George Lovett, Mrs. Mauri Brennan, and Mrs. Daniel Flax. Mrs. H. J. Bligh had two guests, Mr. and Mrs. Addison Holton of Grosse Pointe.

At another table Mrs. W. F. Schlotman had Mr. and Mrs. Ennis St. Cyr, Mrs. John Hamrick, Robert Blanks, Mrs. Russ Stephens, and Mrs. Valerie Valkeis.

A foursome of pretty ladies included Mrs. William Bannerman, Mrs. Guy Ward and her mother, Mrs. Julian Hazard, and Mrs. Alfred Smith Jr., all of Beverly Hills.

Myrna Loy to Return to Movies

By ELIZABETH TOOMEY
United Press Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK — A week in Manhattan:

Myrna Loy, who recently returned from making a movie in Paris, says she intends to make "lots more" movies.

The pert, red-haired actress might even do another "thin man" movie, if somebody would just write one.

"People ask why Bill and I quit doing the 'Thin Man' series," Miss Loy said, pouring a cup of tea in her Manhattan apartment living room, which overlooks the East River. "We quit because the writers quit."

The actress, who co-starred with William Powell in six "Thin Man" movies, now is the wife of Howland Sargent, a former assistant sec-

Indio Clubwomen Here to Promote Date Festival

President Johnnie Williams, Elvera Ann Brunner, Sally Daniels and Etta Estel were there to publicize the Riverside County Fair and Date Festival that will be held at Indio February 16-22. They asked members of the Palm Springs Club to wear Arabian costumes to help promote interest in the Date Festival, which is a Riverside County project.

Other guests at the luncheon were Mrs. Margaret Schuler and Mrs. Alice Davis, who came to hear the pleasing vocal music presented by pupils of Wynne Hammond. A quartet of boys, Tommy and Dicky Canby, Tommy Pickell and Gary Beebe, and young tenor Gil Pacquette, were accompanied by Mrs. Hammond at the piano.

Noted Author of Twenties Dies in DHS

DESERT HOT SPRINGS—Robert Menzies McAlmon, a celebrated literary figure of the Paris of the 1920's, died this week here.

McAlmon, who was 61, had made his home here since 1951, when he came to Desert Hot Springs seeking relief from the tuberculosis from which he suffered.

He was found dead Friday in his home at Second Street and Cactus Drive. A coroner's inquest held Saturday attributed his death to pneumonia.

McAlmon's autobiography, "Being Geniuses Together," described his life in Paris during the period of the famed American expatriate writers. Other books dealing with that celebrated period in U.S. literary history describe him as noted for his critical instinct, and for his influence in molding writers such as Hemingway and Gertrude Stein.

HE REMAINED a friend of James Joyce, one of the two or three most influential writers of this century, to the end of that author's troubled life. His extensive collection of Joyceanana was recently purchased by Yale University.

In Desert Hot Springs McAlmon lived so quietly that few people knew of his fabulous background. He took a great interest in the Desert Hot Springs Free Library, and presented it with a number of valuable works. In recognition of this interest, further gifts were made to the library this week by his family.

McALMON WAS a native of Clifton, Kansas. He is survived by four sisters, Grace Marissael of Desert Hot Springs, Bess Davis of Stockton, and Victoria McNair and Ann McAlmon, both of Los Angeles; and two brothers, George and H. R. McAlmon, both of El Paso, Texas. Private funeral services were held from the Wiefels and Son Mortuary in Palm Springs Sunday afternoon, followed by cremation.

SPEND WEEK END HERE

CATHEDRAL CITY—Mr. and Mrs. Don Frank and daughters, Mona Leora, and Kathy, spent the weekend at their home in Palm Valley. Mr. Frank, who has been with the Post Office in Los Angeles for quite a few years, is hoping to make the Desert their permanent home.

Clerk Takes Two to Convention

A request by County Clerk Gordon Pequegnat that he be authorized to take both his assistant county clerk and the election clerk to the annual County Clerks Association convention, was granted by the supervisors Monday, though Supervisor Warren protested mildly.

"Last year your board authorized my election clerk to accompany me and a great deal of good resulted to this office," declared Pequegnat.

"I don't wholly approve, but will go along," said Warren. "It's setting a precedent."

The convention takes place in Los Angeles, February 9 and 10.

4 Rest Stations Planned in Area

INDIO — Newton B. Drury, chief of the State Division of Beaches and Parks, advised the supervisors by letter this week that if budget funds requested are acted on favorably, acquisitions of sites for proposed roadside rest stations will begin in July of this year. Acquisition, development and maintenance costs will come from tide-land oil royalty funds.

The four sites shown on a map presented by Drury, for stations to be located in Riverside County,

Robert (Bob) Hanson has returned from an extended trip throughout the east. Pittsburgh and a farm in Maryland are the eastern centers for the Hansons but they spend as much time in the warm desert sunshine as they possibly can.

The Shadow Ball, the one completely formal party at Shadow Mountain Club was a great success. The decor was most unusual and beautiful and will be the "talk of the town" for some time. There was continuous music which kept gaiety at a high pitch. The next big affair will be the Catholic Charity Ball, Tuesday, Feb. 14.

Community Service Action Deferred to Next Season

CATHEDRAL CITY — The possibility of forming a Community Service District was discussed by the Chamber of Commerce at its regular monthly meeting held at the Cathedral City Library, and it was decided that no formal action would be taken on the matter until next season, "but," said Claude Cobb, Chamber president, "we want the matter discussed as much as possible among the local clubs and organizations during the interim period."

Directors and members of the Chamber went through a long agenda.

A letter from Miss Christina Lillian was received concerning the excessive speeding on Date Palm drive, and it was reported that county authorities had set a lower speed limit for that area, but no speed signs had as yet been installed. The Chamber approved a motion for secretary Warner Moon to notify and ask the proper authorities to take action on the matter.

AT THE SUGGESTION of director L. C. Lewis, a letter to the County Planning Commission was authorized, giving the results of the straw ballot vote concerning street name changes and requesting that a public hearing be held. The alphabetically named streets will be changed to full names. Director Paul Clark was instructed to contact county and state authorities regarding the possibility of incorporation of Cathedral City's Sunair Park into the state roadside park program.

DIRECTOR ORVILLE ZAPPE reported the receipt of complaints of local residents against the firing of firearms too close to the homes. A committee was appointed to discuss this with the proper authorities and to arrange for signs calling attention to the violation.

A report by Cobb and Clark was given on the Public Utilities Commission hearing at Palm Desert, and the Chamber instructed secretary Warner Moon to write the PUC for the correct legal forms to be used in filing a formal complaint of telephone service.

The meeting was adjourned until March 8.

The letter told of the children's need for warm clothing and it was agreed that, after providing for those in this area, clothing would be sent to the children of In Po Orphanage.

Corliss Urges 'Yes' Vote on All Bond Issue Items

Ray Corliss, candidate for city council from District No. 1, today endorsed all seven propositions on the February 14 bond election.

Terming all of them necessary to the growth and development of the city, Corliss said that they should be accorded an overwhelming endorsement by the voters of Palm Springs.

Regarding the golf course land purchase, he said that it would be a false economy simply to accept any gift land simply because it was free. "In the past, such gifts have often proven a losing proposition from an operational standpoint," he added.

City council should be given the authority to purchase the best land possible, he said.

Riverside Civic Leader to be GOP Candidate

Riverside City Councilman Jim Smutz, active civic leader and Riverside's "Young Man of the Year" in 1950, today announced that he intends to become a candidate for Congressman from the 29th District, which includes Imperial and Riverside Counties.

A Republican all of his adult life, Smutz, 36, stated that he plans to cross-file.

An ardent "I Like Ike" precinct worker, Smutz indicated that he would conduct a vigorous campaign for Ike's program and for his own candidacy throughout the 29th District.

Correction

TODAY'S SPORT PARADE

By OSCAR FRALEY
United Press Sports Writer
Reg. U.S. Pat. Off.

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Yankees, in acquiring Mickey McDermott from Washington, obviously were counting heavily today on another delivery by "Milkman Jim" Turner.

McDermott is the stringbean minstrel of the mound who, touted early as "another Lefty Grove" to date has merely been another lefty. The Yankees apparently believe that the "Milkman" can help the Pagsiac of Poughkeepsie control his blazing fast ball.

IT WOULDN'T be the first time. For it was Turner, the pitching coach who makes a fetish of condition and control, who did so much to bring such as Allie Reynolds, Vic Raschi, Ed Lopat and Tommy Byrne to stardom.

"Jim just talks sense to you," one of them once said. "It sounds right and it usually turns out to be right."

Maybe you can debate how much Turner helped them. But the fact remains that with his aid, Reynolds finally became one of the best after a varied career at Cleveland. It was he who taught Raschi the side arm delivery which put the Springfield rifle on target. And his hints helped Lopat in his conversion from a so-so pitcher to a big winner with the Yankees.

TURNER HAS his work cut out for him, although McDermott at 27 should be losing some of his vast self-esteem. That quality hurt the six foot, three and one-half-inch southpaw for years. You can trace it, probably, to the fact that Mickey was signed by the Boston Red Sox when he was 16 and was pitching at that tender age in the same Eastern League where his father once played with Lou Gehrig and Leo Durocher.

Hopes were high for him but McDermott spent five years in the minors because he couldn't control a really wicked fast ball. Then came three unimpressive years at Boston before he won 18 games in 1953.

DESPITE HIS good year, he was traded to Washington that winter. The primary reason was that twice he came to fistfights with writers who criticized his spicing of the "Ted Williams" temperament and attitude, without Ted's saving talent of delivery in the clutch.

Nor could McDermott seem to decide mentally whether he was a singer or a pitcher. He and a young man named Eddie Fisher used to sing duets when they were unknowns working together in a Catskill resort. So Mickey eventually tried his hand at the night club dodge.

He was piqued when Boston traded him but insisted "any pitcher would rather be in Washington where it's a $4.75 cab ride to the left field fence." Still, he has merely added two more years of mediocrity with a 7-15 and 10-10 record. Hot and cold by streaks, he'd pitch a four-hitter one time and, quite possibly, a 14-hitter the next time out.

TURNER QUITE possibly can sell McDermott on the fact that it is about time he "arrived" at the top. The "Milkman" knows whereof he speaks, too, because he had been in the minors 14 years before he got his big league chance and made good as a 31-year-old rookie.

Jim knows, therefore, that it's never too late if you've got the talent and the desire. McDermott always has had plenty of the former. And, as before, Jim just may bring out the latter.

Connie Mack Mourned by Nation Today

Last Rites for Baseball's Grand Old Man Saturday

By JACK O'BRIEN
United Press Sports Writer

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A nation of baseball fans, from President Eisenhower to spectators who once cheered the world champion Philadelphia Athletics, today mourned the passing of Connie Mack.

Mack, 93, whose baseball fortunes plummeted from the dizzy heights of World Series victory 25 years ago to the depths of despair when his beloved club was sold 15 months ago, died quietly at the home of a daughter in the Mount Airy section of Philadelphia Wednesday.

THE TALL, white-haired "grand old man of baseball" passed away at about 3:30 p.m., a time of day when things were brightest for him in summers long past. Connie, a prime developer of the American League, was a picture of managerial efficiency in those days as he sat ramrod straight having his scorecard from the dugout. Veteran and rookie players alike hastened to change their positions in accordance with Connie's scorecard signals.

At Mack's bedside were his four daughters and a grandson. His son Roy, had left 30 minutes earlier after spending most of the day with his father. Another son, Earle, was confined to his home by illness and his youngest son, Connie Jr., was working at his shrimping business in Fort Meyer, Fla.

MACK WILL BE BURIED in Holy Sepulchre Cemetery here Saturday following a solemn requiem mass in St. Bridget's, his parish church in the East Falls section of the city. Among the honorary pallbearers will be Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick, the presidents of both major leagues, and all 16 major league club presidents.

One of the first to express his sorrow at Mack's passing was President Eisenhower, who said in Washington: "For decades Connie Mack has typified to the American people sportsmanship of the highest order. He will long be remembered by us for all the inspiration he gave American youth as a leader in the most American of sports."

MACK FRACTURED his hip in a fall last October and never fully recovered. He had been confined to a wheelchair ever since and his last public appearance was three days before Christmas when he greeted newsmen and photographers at Roy's suburban Philadelphia home. The occasion was Connie's 93rd birthday anniversary.

Despite his advanced age and recent infirmity, there was little doubt the departure of the Athletics to Kansas City was the factor that drained much of life from Mack, who was owner-manager of the club for more than 50 years.

During his reign as head of the Mack baseball dynasty, the Athletics won nine American League pennants and five World Series. The last days of glory for the A's were in 1929-30-31, when they won the American League flag each season and captured the world championship in all but the last year.

Bud Smith Signs to Meet DeMarco

BOSTON (AP)—Lightweight champion Wallace (Bud) Smith, who dropped a non-title decision to Larry Boardman of Marlboro, Conn., on Tuesday, has signed to meet former welterweight champion Tony DeMarco in a 10-round bout at Boston Garden, March 8.

DeMarco and Smith were scheduled to fight Tuesday, but DeMarco withdrew because of a virus attack.

Two-Man, Single Hole Tourney Day's Feature

A two-man, one-hole tournament scored on a match play basis, was the highlight of the Committee of 25 Tournament today at O'Donnell.

The two men, Judge John D. Black, of Chicago, and Ed Bishop, of Aberdeen, Washington, took golf clubs into their hands for the first time in their lives under competition rules, and played the third hole as if it were Tam o' Shanter or Pebble Beach.

The tournament included a breakfast at Committee of 25 clubhouse, six foursomes playing best-ball scores, a luncheon at the clubhouse, the two-man match, and presentation of prizes.

Trophies were presented by James Kemper, ex-Ambassador to Brazil.

The committee in charge of today's activities included Nate Milnor, president of the Committee of 25, E. J. French, president of the O'Donnell Golf Club, Bishop and Judge Black.

Yanks Acquire McDermott in Washington Deal

By FRED DOWN
United Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Yankees acquired Mickey McDermott in their "annual pennant insurance deal" today and even the Washington Senators conceded the southpaw speedballer "will be a big help" to the defending American League champions.

The deal was the Yankees' answer to the key transactions swung earlier in the winter by their rivals — the Cleveland Indians, Chicago White Sox and Boston Red Sox.

"Mickey had told people in our organization he'd like to go to the Yankees," Senator President Calvin Griffith disclosed. "He'll help them quite a bit, too. He'll have an incentive to produce for them."

McDermott had a 10-10 record with the Senators and ranked 14th in the league with a 3.75 earned run average last season. But he pitched only eight complete games and except for an 18-10 season with the Red Sox in 1953 has not reached the stardom predicted for him.

Manager Casey Stengel will turn over McDermott to Jim Turner, his specialist in coaching pitchers, in the hope that Mickey's control can be harnessed. McDermott struck out 78 batters last season but walked 98.

Dupatta Scores at $112.90 to $2

ARCADIA (AP)—Dupatta, the rank outsider in a field of 14, won the $18,200 Santa Susana Handicap Wednesday at Santa Anita Park and returned $112.90 to win, biggest stakes payoff here in 15 years. Only the $118.40 payoff of Bay View in the 1941 Santa Anita Handicap exceeded the price returned by Dupatta, a three-year-old daughter of First Fiddle.

Jockey Rogelio Trejos brought Dupatta from far off the pace to win the seven-furlong sprint for three-year-old fillies by a length and three-quarters over Chargers Gal. Mrs. Muriel L. the pace setter, was third.

Jones Wins

WASHINGTON (AP)—Ralph "Tiger" Jones, veteran Yonkers (N.Y.) middleweight, smashed out a six-round knockout over highly touted Tony Baldoni Wednesday night after taking everything Baldoni could throw. Jones was in trouble only once during the nationally-televized fight.

New York — (UP) — What would be one of the best-selling records—if it were for sale—is an LP devoted to highlights of the CBS-TV program Noel Coward and Mary Martin did last fall. CBS had a limited quantity made for private distribution. Conflicting recording contracts of the stars made it impracticable to do the record commercially.

Doodles

By ROGER PRICE

"TWO MONKEYS HIDING IN UMBRELLA"

I drew the monkey tails in this

Doodle from real life, using two of the monkeys that Dr. Schwine and Dr. Kitzenger keep for experimental purposes over at the Institute. The Doctors have 8 monkeys locked in a small room with a 21-inch TV set so they can study the effects of television on dumb animals. They also have Mrs. Schwine's nephew, Otto, locked in the room. His job is to take notes on the monkey's reactions to various programs, but things haven't been working out too well. Mostly because Otto insists on watching "Howdy Doodley" and the "Kartoon Klub" and the monkeys keep switching the set to "Wide Wide World" or "Omibus". However, there is one thing the monkeys and Otto agree on — they all like bananas.

Lienau Village to be Removed in Near Future

The removal of the last seven buildings from the Lienau Village parcel, and subsequent clearing of the land, is now within sight, according to city manager Robert W. Peterson.

Two of the seven buildings are scheduled to be removed within the next two weeks, and the county restrictions which stopped the houses from being moved to another section of the county have been relaxed.

Peterson said that when removal of the buildings was first discussed, county building codes were not light. After bids were filed for the sale of the buildings, county restrictions were made more stringent.

After that, bidders withdrew their offers, and the buildings were apparently left for the city, who owns the property, to remove.

The Modesto firm, Morgan Wreckers, has indicated they would buy the remaining five structures and remove them within the next two distant future.

Since the state-financed housing project showed a loss, the money received for the sale of the buildings will go to California coffers.

Productive Guernsey

CALEDONIA, Mich. — (UP) — The American Guernsey Cattle Club said a Guernsey cow owned by J. Roy and Elton R. Smith of Caledonia set a new production record of 9,465 pounds of milk and 561 pounds of fat during a 305-day period. The two-year-old cow's production was equal to 4,650 quarts of "high quality" milk. The test was supervised by Michigan State University.

Your Children and You Always the Young Strangers

(This column is written by Laura Oak, Ph.D., noted child psychologist, who is a resident of Palm Springs.)

Has someone tried, either from flattery or from suspect motives, to convince you that your child is "a chip off the old block"? Do not believe him.

A child, in spite of wishfulness, is different in more ways than he is like either of his parents. He is someone nobody knows. He is new and he is unpredictable. This intimate little child of yours, as you may have suspected rather early in his life, is "the one-and-only" Mister X.

The little girl who looks like her mother or her father or one of her grandparents is, when you look more closely, just as charmingly mysterious in her own right.

We cannot fathom the personality of a child by assuming likenesses to others, nor can we be certain of guiding him wisely by treating him as though he feels as we used to feel. Carl Sandburg's phrase, "Always the Young Stranger," is an idea to conjure with.

HOW DO WE GO about trying to know these young people, then, for what they are or do we? Can we possibly comprehend what the life of a child is like today by referring to our own childhood? We get the surprise of our lives

If we press the point that today's children need the same kind of discipline, the same "firm" kind of schooling, the same social controls we were raised by.

Our young people, unlike we were in our youth, are quite articulate. They tell us bluntly: "You just don't understand me, at all! Nobody understands me." Must so many of them remain enigmatic to us and to themselves? At times avoiding us, they cling to one another and confide their innermost feelings to each other instead of to us. A few grow moody and live awhile within a self-made solitude. Others, for reasons we do not guess, act tough and go out with the gang.

Dwelling here among us like young strangers they continue to baffle us, to amaze us, to worry us and even to outwit us, not to say, embarrass us at times. The world is different today in so many ways and the effect of the new environment upon children so different from any cultural pattern of the past that to understand the forces affecting our children it is necessary to begin almost "at scratch."

DURING the recent post-war years we have been impressed by the mumbled disapproval of children and the tendency to blame parents for the whole sorry state of affairs commonly referred to as the Wave of Juvenile Delinquency. The charge that children misbehave because parents do not discipline (punish) them sufficiently is unfair and unreliable.

Certain facts of social upheaval and of fundamental changes in our cultural pattern are sufficient to explain the present confusion as to what children are like and what causes them to behave as they do. Two wars have prevented two generations of parents from pursuing normally their homemaker functions.

Today's parents did not know the satisfying kind of home life needed for appreciation of basic human needs. Many of them were raised "from pillar to post" with fathers in service and mothers at work or living in improvised and often cramped quarters. As future homemakers, they scarcely had a chance to know from experience what good family life requires.

TODAY'S CHILDREN were born to the generation of young people described by Mark May as The Lost Generation — the uprooted youth whose guidance was "catch-as-catch-can." Actually, they turned out to be wonderful people with extraordinary ingenuity and creativity. But World War II caught them as they were about to marry. The present generation of children is theirs.

Now that the wars are behind us and we are back to the normal processes of home and community building, adults have their chance to get acquainted with children again and to experience the intimacy and other delights to be enjoyed from watching them flourish within a wholesome environment once more.

Within the beautiful houses we are building and the inspiring community life we are fostering for the enhancement of graceful living, children and adults are promised a new opportunity to get acquainted again.

HOME WITH A VIEW

It's in Little Tuscany, of course. The sliding glass doors from the master bedroom lead to a private patio... the living room glass doors lead to another to take full advantage of the view. A flagstone fireplace spills out into the L shaped living room and dining area. This two bedroom, two bath home is designer built. There are walled, landscaped gardens just beyond the glass walls of the baths... and marble (well, maybe not real marble) shower walls and the same "marble" is used for the free form pullman sink. This is a Little Tuscany home you can afford. $32,500 UNFURNISHED

Council Agrees to Reopen Sign Case for Market

Though Willard McKinney is no longer in the grocery store business since he leased out his market on Palm Canyon Drive, he will follow up his request for city approval of the "market" sign, presently termed illegal.

City council last night agreed to reopen his case and directed the variance board to reconsider its decision.

McKinney's lease to Jane D. and Joseph L. Sullivan includes his store building and fixtures.

Legal action requires he remain in connection with the market until clearance. Beside the sign variance, McKinney must have his off-asse beer and wine license transferred to the new tenants.

Other council action last night included authorization of a $10,520 architectural fee payment to Clark, Frey and Chambers, designers of the proposed city hall, and approval of a request by the Clyde Beatty circus to use airport land March 19 for two shows.

A resolution by Palm Springs to the Civil Aeronautics Board indicating the city's desire for other airline service during the Western Air Lines strike was returned by the board, with an indicated request for a more formal petition. Council then approved the city's filing of a petition for temporary exemption, which would bring the air service problem before the board.

Council was told that Catalina Airlines service, regularly scheduled to leave Los Angeles for Palm Springs at 10 a.m. and Palm Springs for Los Angeles at 11 a.m. daily, could be augmented by an afternoon flight, if warranted.

Spending of $350 for a State Employment Retirement System survey was approved.

Rain and Snow Belt Extends North from Gulf

By UNITED PRESS

Rain and snow fell in a storm belt from the Gulf of Mexico north through Lower Mississippi Valley to the Upper Great Lakes today, but mostly fair weather prevailed elsewhere.

Rain fell generally in the Central Gulf Region and north through Alabama and Tennessee. Thunderstorms in a six-hour span over Louisiana produced more than an inch and a quarter of rain at Burwood and 1.51 inches at New Orleans. Half an inch of rain was recorded at Mobile, Ala., and nearly an inch at Pensacola, Fla.

The Upper Great Lakes had snow as did sections of Missouri, Iowa and Illinois.

ROME (AP)—A U. S. mercy convoy of 25 trucks struggled southward today through raging snowstorms that heaped new misery on thousands of Italians reported in danger of starvation.

The Europe-wide death toll in the worst cold wave of the century reached 230. Normally warm Italy was hard-hit. At least 62 persons were known dead.

Such an annexation may be protested by Palm Springs, and Tallent and Brown said they wished to present their proposal to Palm Springs so questions could be answered and inter-city unity preserved.

The main points in annexation were the revenue derived by Cabazon from the scales, estimated at $40,000 annually, the revenue derived from large, roadside billboards, through a $250 permit fee annually for each sign, the type of business Cabazon plans to promote, and the plans for a casino for draw poker.

A LETTER ADDRESSED to city council from the Homeowners League, asked that council present its intentions concerning the sectional paving of McCallum Way under the $155,000 bond proposition. The letter requested that no money be spent for paving the eastern half till the section 14 half is paved.

The accident occurred while he was en route to school. He was hospitalized two days.

It would be impossible to endorse that letter by changing bond language, it was said.

A 3-3 vote forced the intention resolution to be dropped. Desert Braemar Corporation requested use of airport facilities for a fly-in office, not to be used as a sales office for its Tamarisk area proposed building. Nathanson said three officers in the corporation owned planes, and would bring nationwide publicity if allowed the office. Private use was questioned, and a decision held in abeyance.

Other incumbents who have taken out nomination papers are Mayor Florian Boyd, Ruth Hardy and Ted McKinney.
